BACKGROUND

From young adults starting out in the workforce to workers nearing retirement, the Affordable Care Act (ACA) adds important protections related to employer-based group health plan coverage.
OVERVIEW

Provisions regarding:

- Dependent coverage to age 26
- Lifetime and annual limits
- Preexisting condition exclusions
- Internal claims and appeals and External Review
- Preventive services
- Patient protections
- Wellness Programs
- 90-day waiting period
Young Adults and Dependent Coverage

- Young adults under age 26 can generally stay on their parent’s health coverage if the plan allows for dependent coverage.

Who can qualify?

- Generally includes a child even if the child:
  - does not live with their parent,
  - is not a dependent on their parent’s tax returns,
  - is not a student, or
  - is married.
LIFETIME AND ANNUAL LIMITS

- In the past, some people with cancer or other chronic illnesses ran out of insurance coverage because their health care expenses reached a dollar limit imposed by their plan or insurance company.

- Now, a group health plan or insurer can not establish lifetime or annual limits on the dollar value of essential health benefits for any individual.
Preexisting Condition Exclusions

- Plans cannot limit or deny benefits or deny coverage due to a preexisting condition.
- This is true even if you've been turned down or refused coverage due to a pre-existing condition in the past.
SUMMARY OF BENEFITS AND COVERAGE (SBC) AND UNIFORM GLOSSARY

Plans are required to provide:

- A summary of benefits and coverage (SBC). This is an easy-to-understand summary about your health plan coverage to help you better understand the benefits available and to help you evaluate your health coverage choices.

- A uniform glossary of terms commonly used in health insurance coverage, such as deductible and copayment.
CLAIMS AND APPEALS

- There are new rights and protections related to internal appeal processes for individuals. Internal appeals refers to when you are asking your health plan to reconsider its decision to deny payment for a service or treatment.

- If your plan denies your claim, the plan must provide a notice describing why the claim was denied and your appeal rights.

- If your plan still denies payment after considering your appeal, you now have the right to external review. For self-insured health plans you will generally have an independent review organization decide the outcome of your external appeal.
Preventive Services

- You can receive certain recommended preventive services, without having to pay a copayment or deductible (or other cost-sharing).
- Some examples of the preventive services that you can get without cost sharing (may depend upon your age) include:
  - Blood pressure, diabetes and cholesterol tests
  - Many cancer screenings
  - Regular well-baby and well-child visits
  - Routine vaccinations
  - Flu and pneumonia shots
  - Well-woman visits
  - Gestational diabetes screening
  - Domestic and interpersonal violence screening and counseling
  - Breastfeeding support, supplies and counseling

- A full list of preventive services can be found at:
PATIENT PROTECTIONS

Designation of Primary Care Provider
A plan or issuer that requires participants or beneficiaries to designate a primary care provider must permit the participant or beneficiary to designate any participating primary care provider who is available to accept the participant. With respect to a child, the plan or issuer must allow the designation of a pediatrician as a child’s primary care provider, if the provider participates in the network of the plan or issuer.

Obstetrical and Gynecological Care
A plan providing OB/GYN care that requires the designation of a participating primary care provider:
• may not require authorization or referral for a female participant who seeks coverage for OB/GYN care provided by a participating OB/GYN specialist.
PATIENT PROTECTIONS

Emergency Services

- A group health plan or issuer that provides benefits with respect to services in an emergency department of a hospital, must cover emergency services:
  - Without the need for preauthorization (even if provided out-of-network);
  - Without regard to whether the provider of the emergency services is a participating network provider with respect to the services;
  - If the emergency services are provided out-of-network, by complying with special cost-sharing
  - Without regard to any other term or condition of the coverage, other than the exclusion of or coordination of benefits; an affiliation or waiting period; or applicable cost sharing.
Wellness Programs

- A wellness program is a program intended to improve health and fitness that is commonly offered through employer health plans.
- More employers are establishing wellness programs that encourage employees to work out, stop smoking, and generally adopt healthier lifestyles.
- Check with your plan and see if they offer a wellness program.
90-DAY WAITING PERIOD

- In general, the ACA prohibits the application of any waiting period that exceeds 90 days
  - A waiting period is the period that must pass before an employee or dependent is eligible to enroll (becomes covered) under the terms of the group health plan.

- There are special rules related to certain hourly workers.

Submit Form 8965 with federal tax return to claim coverage exemptions granted by either the Health Insurance Marketplace or IRS.
Making an Individual Shared Responsibility Payment

Taxpayers calculate Shared Responsibility Payment if everyone on the return does not have:

• Minimum Essential Coverage for every month of the year, or
• Exemption for months without Minimum Essential Coverage
How is the 2015 Payment Calculated?

- For the year, based on the greater of the calculated:
  - percentage of income (2%) or
  - flat dollar amount ($325 per adult)
- Limited to maximum of $975 per household
- Prorated for months without coverage/exemption
- Cannot exceed the national average premium for bronze level health plans
Common Errors

• Eligible for coverage exemption but did not claim
  – Income below filing threshold
  – Not lawfully present
  – Coverage gaps
• Miscalculated Shared Responsibility Payment
• Shared Responsibility Payments on dependent returns

THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (ACA)
INDIVIDUAL MANDATE
THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (ACA) INDIVIDUAL MANDATE

Since implementation of the ACA in 2014, you and your family must:

• Have health insurance coverage throughout the year

  OR

• Qualify for an exemption from coverage

  OR

• Make a payment on your federal income tax return

OutreachandSales@covered.ca.gov
If you are covered by any of the following health plans, you’re considered covered under the Affordable Care Act (ACA) and don’t have to pay a penalty:

- Any Covered California Plan, or any individual insurance plan you already have
- Any employer plan (including COBRA policy)
- Retiree health plans
- Most Medicare coverage
- Medi-Cal (excluding Share of Cost and other limited-scope Medi-Cal programs)
- Medi-Cal Kids (formerly Healthy Families)

- TRICARE (for current service members and military retirees, their families, and survivors)
- Veterans health care programs (including the Veterans Health Care Program, VA Civilian Health and Medical Program (CHAMPVA), and Spina Bifida Health Care Benefits Program)
- Peace Corps Volunteer plans
- Self-funded health coverage offered to students by universities for plan or policy years that began on or before Dec. 31, 2014
Some products that help pay for medical services DO NOT qualify as MEC. If you only have this type of product or coverage, you may have to pay the tax penalty. These include:

- Coverage only for vision care or dental care
- Workers' compensation
- Coverage only for a specific disease or condition
- Plans that offer only discounts on medical services
The Tax Penalty for not having Minimum Essential Coverage (MEC) is calculated in one of 2 ways.

1) Pay either a percentage of your household income; OR
1) A flat fee

*Whichever is greater

EXEMPTIONS FROM THE INDIVIDUAL MANDATE

Under some circumstances, you won’t have to make the payment even if you don’t have MEC. This is called an “exemption.” You may qualify for an “exemption” if any of the following apply to you:

- You’re uninsured for less than 3 months of the year
- The lowest-priced coverage available to you (premium for the lowest cost Bronze plan) would cost more than 8.13% of your household income
- You don’t have to file a tax return because your income is too low (under the tax filing thresholds)
- You’re a member of a recognized religious sect with religious objections to insurance, including Social Security and Medicare
- You’re a member of a recognized health care sharing ministry
- You’re incarcerated (either detained or jailed and not being held pending disposition of charges)
- You’re a member of a federally recognized tribe or eligible for services through an Indian Health Services provider
- You’re not lawfully present in the U.S.
- You qualify for a hardship exemption

EXEMPTIONS FROM THE INDIVIDUAL MANDATE

You can get more information about qualifying exemptions and how to apply for an exemption by visiting:

www.healthcare.gov

Note: If the consumer claims an exemption on their federal tax filings, they are required to complete IRS Form 8965 – Health Coverage Exemptions.
ADVANCED PREMIUM TAX CREDIT (APTC)

Covered California uses the following information to calculate APTC:

• The individual’s or family’s tax household gross annual income or Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI)

• Tax household size (of those individuals for whom the tax filer properly claims a deduction for a personal exemption for the taxable year, including the tax filer him/herself, his/her spouse and/or children, and his/her relative as applicable)

• Coverage family size (of those members of the tax filer’s family who are seeking enrollment in a Covered California plan and are not eligible for employer-sponsored coverage or any government-sponsored program, such as Medi-Cal or Medicare)

• The Second Lowest Cost Silver Plan in the individual or family’s zip code
Covered California Plan enrollees already meet the Affordable Care Act Mandate to have Minimum Essential Coverage because all plans offered through Covered California meet the MEC standard, even enrollees in the Bronze and Catastrophic Plans.

APTC Reconciliation is the means by which Covered California Plan enrollees and the IRS will determine whether the amount of APTC, or premium assistance, paid to Covered California Health Insurance Companies on their behalf was accurate.
Consumers need help making the connection between:

Premium Tax Credits
Filing Their Taxes

Many consumers are unaware that they must reconcile their Advance Premium Tax Credit by filing their taxes.
PREMIUM TAX CREDIT PROCESS

Covered California Eligibility & Enrollment Process: Covered California will oversee the enrollment of eligible consumers into Qualified Health Plans (QHPs) and determine the amount of premium tax credit applied. The tax credits will be paid to Health Insurance Companies on the consumers behalf.

1095-A Process: At the end of the plan year, Covered California provides consumers with a Form 1095-A which provides information about the consumer’s enrollment and APTC.

Federal Income Tax Filing Process: Consumers use the information provided on Form 1095-A to file their federal income tax return with the IRS, reconcile any APTC applied, and/or claim premium tax credit. The information provided in the Form 1095-A is also sent to the IRS.

APTC Reconciliation Process: The IRS determines the actual APTC based off the consumers household MAGI for the tax year versus and compares it to what was reported via the tax filing process. Consumers will use Form 8962 or 8965 for exemptions when they file their taxes.

QUESTIONS?

OutreachandSales@covered.ca.gov
THANK YOU!

OutreachandSales@covered.ca.gov
Questions for IRS/DOL Webinar: 1/20/16

1. Question: What qualifies as a short coverage gap?

   IRS Answer: In general, a gap in coverage that lasts less than three months qualifies as a short coverage gap. If you have has more than one short coverage gap during a year, the short coverage gap exemption only applies to the first gap. If you have a coverage gap of 3 months or more, you are not exempt for any of those months.

   If you do not have coverage for a continuous period that begins in one taxable year and ends in the next, for purposes of applying the short coverage gap rules to the first taxable year, the months in the second taxable year included in the continuous period are not counted. For purposes of applying the short coverage gap rules to the second year, the months in the first taxable year are counted. For example, if you lacked coverage from November 1, 2015 until February 1, 2016, November and December of 2015 are treated as a short coverage gap on your 2015 tax return. On your 2016 return, however, November and December of 2015 are included in the continuous period that includes January 2016. That continuous period is not less than 3 months so, on your 2016 return, January of 2016 is not an exempt month under the short coverage gap exemption.

2. Question: Do I have to be covered for an entire calendar month to avoid the shared responsibility payment liability for not having minimum essential coverage for that month?

   IRS Answer: No. You will be treated as having minimum essential coverage for a month as long as you have coverage for at least one day during that month.

3. Question: If I change health coverage during the year and end up with a gap when I am not covered, will I owe a payment?

   IRS Answer: Individuals are treated as having minimum essential coverage for a calendar month if they have coverage for at least one day during that month. Additionally, as long as the gap in coverage is less than three consecutive months, you may qualify for an exemption and not owe a payment. See question 22 for more information on the exemption for a short coverage gap.

4. Question: How do I find information about my employer’s group health plan, including claims and appeals’ procedures?
DOL Answer: You can request and read Your Plan's Summary Plan Description (SPD) for the Wealth of Information It Provides about your health plan.

Your health plan administrator should provide a copy. It outlines your benefits and your legal rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), the Federal law that protects your health benefits. It also should contain information about the coverage of dependents, what services will require a co-payment or coinsurance, and the circumstances under which your employer can change or terminate a health benefits plan. You also can find many of the answers to your questions in the Summary of Benefits and Coverage (SBC), a short, easy-to-understand summary of what a plan covers and what it costs. You should receive a copy with your enrollment materials. Save the SPD, the SBC, and all other health plan brochures and documents, along with memos or correspondence from your employer relating to health benefits.

5. Question: How does one go about an external review once all internal appeals are exhausted?

DOL Answer: There is the possibility of a private accredited IRO (Internal Review Organization)

-OR-

A State external review process if the State allows access

6. Question: I am a retiree, and I am too young to be eligible for Medicare. I receive my health coverage through a retiree plan made available by my former employer. Is the retiree plan minimum essential coverage?

IRS Answer: Yes. Retiree health plans generally are minimum essential coverage.

7. Question: What happens if I owe an individual shared responsibility payment, but I cannot afford to make the payment when filing my tax return?

IRS Answer: The IRS routinely works with taxpayers who owe amounts they cannot afford to pay. The law prohibits the IRS from using liens or levies to collect any individual shared responsibility payment. However, if you owe a shared responsibility payment, the IRS may offset that liability against any tax refund that may be due to you.

8. Question: Do my spouse and dependent children have to be covered under the same policy or plan that covers me?
IRS Answer: No. You, your spouse and your dependent children do not have to be covered under the same policy or plan. However, you, your spouse and each dependent child for whom you may claim a personal exemption on your federal income tax return must have minimum essential coverage or qualify for an exemption, or you will owe a shared responsibility payment when you file a return.

9. Question: Where can I find a complete list of preventative services?

DOL Answer: Recommended Preventive Services:

10. Question: Are there any instances where there may still be cost-sharing with respect to preventative services?

DOL Answer: If the recommended preventive service is not billed separately and the primary purpose of the office visit is the delivery of the recommended preventive service, then a plan or issuer may not impose cost-sharing with respect to the office visit;

However, if the recommended preventive service is not billed separately and the primary purpose of the office visit is not delivery of the recommended preventive service, then a plan or issuer may impose cost-sharing with respect to the office visit.
